

Julie Kinscheck: Guitar Instructor

Julie Kinscheck is passionate about music! She began playing guitar and writing and performing her own songs at age nine and she has not stopped since! She currently has three CD's and is producing her fourth. Julie has played in many bands of different genres including rock, jazz, country, folk and gospel from Boston to Europe. Hear more of her original music at www.julieksings.com.

Off stage, she enjoys teaching guitar and voice to students of all ages. Trained at Oberlin Conservatory and Berklee College of Music, Julie brings both theory and experience to her instruction. She has taught elementary and middle school music for seven years in the public schools and she has taught private lessons for more than fifteen years. She coaches singers and guitarists for recitals, shows, auditions and recording sessions at her private studio in Billerica.

Recently, Julie has begun teaching Just Once Guitar Classes for Adults in ten towns in the Boston area.

Julie is the proud mother of boy-girl twins and she is married to recording engineer Ralph Kinscheck. She is also a columnist for the Billerica Minuteman paper.

For information about private lessons, contact Julie at julieksings@comcast.net